Extract 2

You’re standing at the supermarket checkout, frantically trying to pack your weekly groceries alone, at the same time fumbling for your purse. The assistant, meanwhile, does nothing to help, just sits glaring at the queue that’s growing behind you. If it sounds familiar, you won’t be surprised to learn that British people moan on average to no less than 13 friends about bad shop assistants. But if poor service is increasing, it could be because, as a nation, we’re the least likely to make a fuss about it.

Now big stores are turning to Chequers, a company which sends bogus shoppers — women known as Checkmates — into shops to test out service. Chequers’ reports go back to the stores, some of which have launched new staff training programs in an effort to improve matters.

76. The word “fumbling” (line 2) can be replaced by ____.

1. grabbing quickly
2. looking carefully
3. searching clumsily
4. checking roughly
77. “The assistant … does nothing to help” (lines 2 – 3) means that the assistant ____.
   1. does not give advice to customers
   2. refuses to make change for customers
   3. just sits and looks at customers hopelessly
   4. does not help customers pack their groceries

78. From the phrase “the queue that's growing” (lines 3 – 4), we learn that ____.
   1. a line of people are on a waiting list
   2. a queue of shoppers keep on waiting
   3. more and more shoppers are waiting in the line
   4. rows of people are waiting one behind the other

79. The phrase “make a fuss” (line 7) means ____.
   1. worry
   2. argue
   3. protest
   4. boast

80. The phrase “bogus shoppers” (lines 8 – 9) refers to ____.
   1. women hired to check service in stores
   2. those who own a company called Chequers
   3. Checkmates doing the shopping in big stores
   4. housewives who go shopping to test out service
81. The word “which” (line 10) refers to ____.
   1. reports
   2. stores
   3. programs
   4. Checkmates

82. We learn from the extract that most British people ____.
   1. are patient with poor service in supermarkets
   2. like talking about bad shop assistants the most
   3. don’t mind talking about increasing poor service
   4. enjoy shopping at the supermarket on weekends

83. It can be inferred that the staff training program will result in ____.
   1. better working condition
   2. generating higher profits
   3. improving customer service
   4. increasing employee morale
Postal Orders:
the handy way to send cash today

What is a Postal Order?

Postal Orders are the closest thing to cash you can send in the post. They are simple to send and available in any amount from 50p to £20 with no limit to the cash value you can buy.

Unlike cash, a Postal Order is traceable as the counterfoil provides you with proof of purchase.

What can I use it for?

Any time you need to send money through the post, you can send a Postal Order. They are especially useful for sending to people without bank accounts as they are easily cashed at any local Post Office.

All your bills can be settled with Postal Orders. You can use them to pay for catalogue shopping and mail order purchases, for competition entries, football pools, film processing and many other uses.

Anyone can cash a Postal Order at their local Post Office, so they make perfect gifts for children or anyone who does not have a bank account.

Postal Orders are one of the most popular methods of sending money abroad, to businesses or individuals. They are accepted in around 50 countries worldwide, and there is no limit to the cash value you can send.
84. The word “handy” (in the title) can be replaced by ____.
   1. popular

   2. the amount of money to be sent can either be very large or very small
   3. the receiver of a Postal Order does not need to have a bank account
   4. you can transfer money from your bank account to pay bills by this method

89. We should use a Postal Order to send money because it is ____.
   1. easier to cash than a check
   2. the most flexible method of sending money
   3. possible to claim your money back if it gets lost
   4. a better way to send money than any other means

90. The tone of the extract is ____.
   1. suggestive
   2. narrative
   3. persuasive
   4. descriptive
Extract 4

Genetics plays a big role in the way our skin develops, determining its color, pore concentration, thickness, even the number of veins and nerves situated in its deepest layer. Yet your skin’s well-being not only depends on a really efficient, scientific skincare routine, but on a healthy lifestyle too.

Getting enough sleep is important, for example, because this is the time when skin works especially hard at repairing itself. Lack of it leaves skin looking dull. If you’re suffering from insomnia, the chances are that stress is a significant factor. Whereas happiness makes skin glow, stress makes skin show the worst side of its nature. Spots, pimples, eczema, blotchiness and flakiness: these are just some of the stress symptoms you may see in your skin.

Luckily, one of the best ways of reducing stress is also very beneficial to skin: getting more exercise. Both aerobic exercise such as tennis, dancing, and jogging, and anaerobic exercise like stretching and yoga, are highly beneficial, because they improve circulation. And it is blood that brings the vitamins and nutrients necessary for cell metabolism to the skin. For your general well-being, it is always best to mix the two types of exercise.

If you are not eating healthily, it certainly becomes evident swiftly in your skin, which loses its glow and shine. The problem can be as simple as a lack of vitamin C, which plays a vital role in collagen formation and cell repair. Although vitamin C is found in fresh fruit like melon, oranges, and even in tomatoes, the body cannot store it. Therefore, it needs regular supplies. Other important vitamins are the B group, especially B2 and B12 and vitamin E, along with zinc.

But vitamin and mineral supplements are not the complete answer. The best way to obtain a balanced mix of vitamins and minerals is to eat the freshest, most natural foods. A diet rich in unsaturated fats such as olive oil rather than butter, unprocessed fiber, raw fruit and vegetables and low-fat protein such as fish and chicken will provide everything your skin needs. If you can cut out caffeine, smoking and alcohol, so much the better.

Do not forget to drink as much water as you can each day: six glasses at least. It helps every organ in your body function better, aiding digestion, circulation and even excretion of toxins through the skin’s pores.
